

Limited Liability

by LLC

My company, Limited Liability by LLC (in the process of changing name at the moment) is a Fashion Company based in New York. We do business in the USA and in Europe. All of our products are manufactured in Hong Kong, China and in Italy.

For all of our shipments we have relied on EZ Worldwide Express. EZ had been recommended to us by much bigger names in the fashion industry. Being a new and young company we were not too sure how to handle the shipping of Samples or merchandise from the US to China and from Europe to New York. They give us great advice and always provide the best solutions for a secure, and swift shipping of our merchandise. In addition, they have always been on time and readily available no matter the time or day.

Our Account representative, Chad Cannella, has always been extremely patient, prompt and attentive to our needs. With a phone call or an E-mail, Chad has always been reachable, and willing to help.

Limited Liability Co. is now evolving and in the process of broadening our spectrum. But the new LLC will still be relying heavily upon EZ Worldwide Express and Chad for all their shipping. They've earned it.
